Art Unit: 2154

Restriction:

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

I. Claims 1-17, 56-69 and 126-128 drawn to web-based remote access, classified in class 709, subclass 219 and class 719, subclass 329.

II. Claims 18-53, 70-84, 87-95 and 105-114, drawn to the computer network interface, classified in class 709, subclass 250.

III. Claims 54-55, 85-86, 96-104 and 115-125, drawn to method of establishing network connection for data transfer, classified in class 709, subclass 227.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons: Inventions I II and III are related as combination and subcombinations. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination I as claimed do not require the particulars of the subcombinations II and III as claimed because any conventional computer network interface and protocol can be used in the invention I for establishing connection for transferring data between two computers in the network. The subcombination II has separate utility such as a memory for storing computer status and executable programs. The subcombination III, on the other hand, has separate utility such as specific steps of establishing connection between two computers in the network.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

2. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
